BACHELOR OF ARTS IN SPORTS MANAGEMENT PROGRAM

OVERVIEW

This program is designed to prepare students for making a living in the business side of the sports world. Students will become experts in sports promotion, sales, facilities and the other fundamental concepts of operating an athletic organization. This program provides the generalist background needed for a variety of careers in sport management and a solid foundation for post graduate work and undertakings.

The sports management program delivers quality education and develops students into leaders who will be comfortable providing direction in a changing global environment using an ethical and socially responsible framework. This is accomplished through a curriculum that allows for a broad education using business theory and practice, and based upon a liberal arts foundation. Sports management students will learn concepts that emphasize not only technical competence, but also the ethics of professional service, thereby seeking to foster sensitivity and responsiveness to social responsibility, as well as the ability to identify and pursue personal opportunities. Towards the end of the program, student will dip their toes into the professional landscape by experiencing supervised internships for credit.

PROGRAM ENTRY

Students enrolled in this cooperative program complete their Associate of Arts degree in Sports Management at Northeast Community College and Bachelor of Arts in Sports Management at Briar Cliff University. Assessment and advising before registration will help ensure success in program planning and completion.

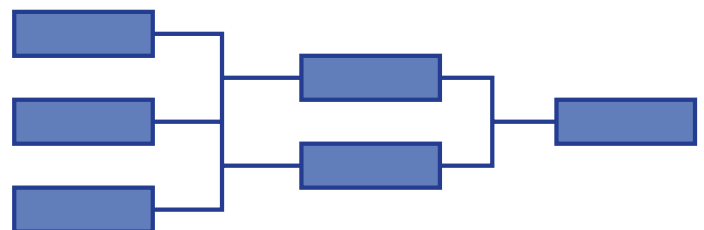

WHY THIS PROGRAM?

Fun, games, and a whole lot more: You may already be a sports nut, but to be successful in this program, you'll also need to be a fan of finance, health, marketing and law, particularly as they relate to the sporting world. This is a business degree that will teach how to negotiate contracts, create a budget, practice public relations and study the legal issues surrounding athletics today.

Get hand-on experience in a sports town: Sioux City is a sports town, brimming with opportunity for the sports enthusiast. Land an internship with the Charger athletic department, or one of three minor league sporting organizations in town: Explorers baseball, Bandits football or Musketeers hockey). Sioux City is also home to the Great Plains Athletic Conference (GPAC) headquarters, the Norm Waitt, Sr. YMCA and the Tyson Events Center, and home of two major NAIA national championships (volleyball and women's basketball).
